

what is it like going to the Getty Center it is the guarded sublime the sublime in nature is when you are awed and frightened by the vastness of storms, mountains, space the guarded sublime is when you see but are protected it's a gated community of the sublime like visiting an underground nuclear bunker dug into a mountain or the platform at the top of a dam holding back roaring waters there's underground parking a lift a people mover like a Bond villain base and then oh look we're on a hill
