

Fun Saturday Activities

Their ride home from Clock Circle Circus
proved uneventful
As Mom guided her Freeway Rope Rocket
With subtle flower feet.

Two chores remained; first
They had to rifle the mosquito pants
Then the electric fungus must be Bottle blurted cirticiously before Any hint of morphing quadrilles appeared.

Later that morning everyone would Cut through butterfly mist wielding Their own forum feathers. If Unsuccessful you must resew it with multicurved star needles
Before progressing to the gas garden.

Post noon the group enjoyed a cyclical snack;
After putting teeth to a stiff melon
They were off to a Kaleidoscope Library
Where one can learn the intricacies of a grandiose Pepper Pendulum Gate or gain new insight and appreciation for spontaneous radar dog tapestries.

Getting there would be tricky today
Even with a universal spiral sail.
Milk monsters were stationed on the route.
They could and would quickly pillow
Any available spot light spectrum.
To avoid any such web album problem,
Always use an improved treadmill thermometer.

Finally, having passed the guitar grape gemstone they fumbled around certain saddle robots
And entered the main Library concourse.
What a great day for the Alphabet Army
