

LAST MINUTE GUIDANCE

That Friday, before we left, our landlady, Trisha, dropped
the beach house key off,
accompanied by a few more notes.

Her fancy new smoke alarms are now disconnected she stated. "They go off haphazardly" she explained "most often in the middle of the night, I'm taking my chances
And hope you will also."

(advice well taken)

"You might want to check out the new food market, a rather swanky
place for our Pine Hills Community.
It's out on Beaver Dam Road, just go down 3A to the light at CVS, Turn left and follow those funky little signs for five miles. The produce and meat are much better Than can be had at Stop and Shop."

(We never got there)

"Our friends, Oscar and Sandie are there this week. They're two houses
up the hill, big red truck out on their front lawn.
Oscar has a key to the beach house, and actually knows how everything works!!
Oscar can solve most any house problem;
by the way his motorcycle is in the garage."

(we never met them)

"Call me if there is anything you need to know."

(never was necessary)

"ENJOY"

(we did)
