

LINES

Scribble lines
on any piece of paper
then direct
their performance.
BEHOLD!
They stretch, they snap, resulting in symmetrical ribbon formation.
Stiffening to imply
all manner of
stilted V or W like angles before whirling and twirling behavior morphs them into tightly spinning circles or as some invariably chose, Undulating
like long lazy waves.
Quick staccato bursts
leave a ruler perfect
broken line speeding
toward a point at infinity.
All the while pulsing
neon reds, blues or greens
This occurs without a step of formal choreography.
They do as you wish
when you wish.
A fulfilling experience--- indeed.
Leaving but one question;
Are the lines ready?
