

dreams as wishes

At night there are dreams floating in bits and pieces about a mind whose activity thrives ~~as its body sleeps~~ on a high copied stasis

There's always one defining moment even when ~~it's only~~ it's then a partial dream.
That's specific
A specific point ~~in time~~
Not hindered by that incomplete nature related to an uncertain level of consciousness.
A consciousness as it exists where time controls reality

Even though one can't be sure Anything truly occurred

No matter how much
Your heart truly desired
it be reality.
~~Something, anything~~
If only for just the instant you wished it ~~wished it.~~

Perhaps then only a pseudo experience;
But still one treasured deeply ,
in a persistent memory
